

COURSE SKILL LEVELS:

Level One (L1): These courses are for beginning students with little or no training in photography. Digital students should be comfortable with fundamental computer skills such as word processing, email, and internet browsing.

Level Two (L2): These courses are aimed at students who understand shutter speed and aperture controls and how to use their single lens reflex (SLR or DSLR) cameras in manual mode. Digital students should have a basic understanding of Adobe Photoshop and/or Lightroom. Lighting students can use strobes. Film students can use filters and burn and dodge.

Level Three (L3): These courses are more advanced and students should have been photographing seriously for a few years and have taken a few photography classes or workshops. Digital students have a comfortable working knowledge of their equipment as well as Adobe Photoshop and or Lightroom.

Level Four (L4): These courses are aimed at professional photographers and advanced students with five or more years experience. Digital, film, and lighting students are confident using more advanced techniques and have a strong understanding of Adobe Photoshop and / or Lightroom.
